Class I Recall - Mangoes

At a Glance: US Foods has received notification that Liberty Fruit of Kansas City is voluntarily recalling Agricola Daniella brand mango products that are packed under the 'Tomorrow's Tropical' label because of the possible presence of Salmonella. Only one US Foods Division was affected. No illnesses have been associated with consumption of Tomorrows Tropical mangoes.

The Issue: Salmonella is a common food borne pathogen that can cause severe illnesses, including fever, abdominal cramps and diarrhea. While most cases are mild, very young, very old, and immunocompromized individuals can be more severely impacted.

Am I Impacted? Only one US Foods' division was affected by this recall. All customers have been notified. If you purchased a recalled product from us, you have already been contacted. If you purchased products elsewhere, use the information above to check with your supplier.

What You Can Do:

- Avoid eating or serving any recalled products
- Do not use any of these products as ingredients in recipes, even if cooked.
- Follow instructions to discard or return recalled product
- Discard recalled products in a manner that prevents others from eating them
- Persons who think they may have become ill with a food-borne illness should consult their health care providers
- Review your own internal recall procedures- does your staff know what to do if they receive notice that a product is being recalled? Typically only specific lot codes are affected.
- Purchase all of your supplies from a company with a robust recall program that can keep you aware of recall and food safety issues
- Help us serve you better. Provide your distribution center with a valid email address so we may provide you with recall information faster.

US Foods Policy:

This Fast Facts is based on the best available information when written. Recalls can be expanded or impact additional product as additional suppliers verify their own supply chains. An updated Fast Facts will be provided as new information becomes available. US Foods will only contact customers IF they purchased recalled products from us.
