Class I Ground Beef Recall – E. Coli Wolverine Packing Co

At a Glance: Wolverine Packing Co of Detroit Michigan notified us that they are impacted by the recent XL Foods of Canada recall of ground beef and trimmings. As a result, they have now issued a Class I Recall of Beef Products under several proprietary label brands because of the possibility of E Coli contamination. The Recall was initiated by a positive E. coli result on a USDA sampling but no illnesses have been associated with the products.

The Issue: E. coli O157:H7 is a potentially deadly bacterium that can cause bloody diarrhea, dehydration, and in the most severe cases, kidney failure. The very young, seniors and persons with weak immune systems are the most susceptible to foodborne illness.

Am I Impacted? US Foods' number one priority is to notify any customer impacted by a recall. Our distribution centers affected by this recall have already contacted affected customers. If you purchased a recalled product from us, you will be contacted shortly, or have already been contacted. If you purchased products elsewhere, use the information above to check with your supplier.

What You Can Do:

- Do not use any of these products as ingredients in recipes, even if cooked.
- Follow instructions to discard or return recalled product
- Discard recalled products in a manner that prevents others from eating them
- Persons who think they may have become ill with a food-borne illness should consult their health care providers
- Review your own internal recall procedures- does your staff know what to do if they receive notice that a product is being recalled? Typically only specific lot codes are affected.
- Purchase all of your supplies from a company with a robust recall program that can keep you aware of recall and food safety issues
- Help us serve you better. Provide your distribution center with a valid email address so we may provide you with recall information faster.
