WELCOME TO THE EVOLUTION

At US Foods®, we've long dedicated ourselves to helping our partners solve their greatest challenges, stay ahead of the changing times and plot their next steps with confidence. In what has been a daunting moment for the industry – one that may have required quick steps and temporary fixes – we're listening closely and helping you adapt for the long term, to anything the future holds.

That begins with Scoop™, our periodic product launch designed to help you turn obstacles into opportunities and convert the latest trends into profits. With many customers avoiding on-premise dining over safety and hygiene worries, restaurant foot traffic is expected to fall short of its usual bustle for the foreseeable future. But those diners aren't lost – they're adjusting. And they're going to gravitate to restaurants that will adjust with them.

In today's environment, the name of the game is evolution. So with this Scoop launch, we're bringing you a lineup of innovative products to ease your diners' concerns and, at the same time, take advantage of the exploding takeout boom. Our tamper-evident items and sanitation solutions offer your customers peace of mind, whether they're dining in, taking it to go or using a delivery service. And our pre-portioned ingredients and dishes – your new secret weapons – will help you reduce labor needs while creating profit opportunities in the form of take-home DIY meal kits.

Welcome to the evolution. Let Scoop help you reinvent your business – for now and the future – with the latest tools of the trade. We're privileged, as always, to partner with you – and to help you continue to make it.
